REPORT OF THE DOINGS OF THE SELECTMEN

It should be the duty of every board of selectmen to render to the citizens of the town a report of the work of the board each year in order that the people may know the facts concerning the payment of money, what things have, and have not been done, with reasons good or bad for doing or not doing.

The present board thoroughly believing in this kind of a report will in the following impartially state the facts concerning their administration for the year 1910.

Many matters were left to the discretion of the board and had all been accomplished in a satisfactory manner to every citizen, it would have been to reach the height of perfection to which none have as yet attained.

The state road, digging well at East cemetery, painting of the engine house, slating church, erection of building for town tools, insuring church property, settees in the town hall and other minor matters. Some of these were left to former boards but did not receive their attention, which your present board have had to deal with and have been disposed of in a manner which will be given in this report in the order in which they come.

Our attention was first called to the horse of George E. Cobb, which was injured and rendered unfit for use by a dog owned by the Mitchells. After being unable to collect damages from Mitchell, Mr. Cobb presented bill to the town, bringing only actual loss, board, medical attendance, and horse hire to take the place of the injured horse, $125.00, upon investigation the sum was reduced to $100, which was paid. All reasonable measures were taken to settle with Mitchell, which he refused to do and would bring the case into court. After taking council and due deliberation the board thought it advisable to pay the required sum rather than carry it into law.

The brown tail moth question was the next to occupy the attention of the board. There are several things about this branch of responsibility to the town which are not generally understood. The most important that the town must spend one tenth of one per cent of its valuation for removing the nests unless they can be removed for a lesser sum to meet the approval of the state agent. Several plans have been tried, previous to this year it was let to contractors by the hour which was found to be an expensive method, the nests being removed on the principle highways. This year 1910 tax payers in various parts of the town demanded fair play and claimed the right to have their moths removed as those who lived on the principle highway. A new plan was tried, Mr. Frank Spaulding was appointed as Moth agent and hired men of Mr. Trudeau of Manchester to perform the work. Mr. Spaulding had charge of one gang of men while your chairman had charge of gang number 2, charging the town 25c per hour for use of team and self to carry the men to and from their work and spotting and picking up the nests. We believe the work to have been done in the most thorough manner, general satisfaction being expressed by a majority of the people, but very few places were missed and those not knowingly, the cost of this method was between six and seven hundred dollars. Had the method been used and the same territory been covered last year that was covered this year the cost would have been over $1200.00. This year 1911 desiring to have the work finished earlier, a bid for removing the nests was advertised for and several were sent in and after careful consideration and enquiries as to the responsibility of the persons were ascertained the contract was finally given to Mr. Wetmore for $600.00. Below is a copy of the contract. There being more nests this year than in previous years trees in door yards in front of people's houses were cut out.

While no violent storm of indignation has burst over the head of your board concerning the building of the state road, yet like the roar of distant thunder has come to their ears the sound of the storm which later on may burst in all its fury. Who the blame is to be attached to concerning this matter we leave for the townspeople to place. We believe that each one of the board did that which he thought to be for the best and if such was the case no blame should be attached to any one, it should be looked upon as a difference of opinion and not a wilful opposition.

Believing that the road commissioners were men of sound judgment and should know the conditions of the highways better than any one else they were called into conference with the board to give their opinion concerning the location. Three routes were investigated, the Pepperell, Depot and Nashua road, Pepperell, F. B.

Spaulding's to Lizzie Fletcher's, Depot from the town hall towards the Depot, Nashua from Nashua line toward Hollis. The Pepperell road was later made a good road by the expenditure of about $30.00 and a majority of the board thought that the Nashua road could be put in as good condition as any road that existed beyond their line for a small amount of money.

Charity should begin at home and believing the center of the town to be the home of Hollis a majority of the board believed the place to begin was at the hub and so the road was reported to the state beginning at the town hall and extending toward the depot as far as the money would go.

The object of the citizens is to encourage summer people to come here as the town has of late had a boom which it has never felt before we as the majority of the selectmen of Hollis believed it to be our duty to continue the feeling of progress which has been so marked.

A nice, clean, well kept looking village is the heart of a town, it is the part that strangers look at to gage the thrift and enterprise of the people of that town.

Good streets and sidewalks go a long way towards establishing that fact.

The governor and council would not agree with a majority of the board to locate the road on the depot route, claiming it was not as much benefit to the state as the Nashua route. The majority of your board believed that as the town was furnishing the largest amount of the money it should have the preference and could not understand why by benefiting the town and causing it to be more prosperous, bringing in people to build summer homes and buy farms that it was not benefiting the state. For some unknown reason the governor and council could not be brought to see it in that light and the majority of your board could not see it in any other light so the state road remained unbuilt, one man has as good a right to his opinion as another and when a man sincerely believes he is right and goes in an opposite direction he is usually censured as whiffle minded and not of sound judgment.

It was voted by the town to dig a well at the East cemetery and the matter was left to the selectmen. The well was dug under the supervision of Mace and Rule and a lasting supply of water obtained at a very moderate cost considering the well was dug in solid ledge. The installation of a pump was overlooked until so late in the fall that the board concluded it would be of no value to the public and that remains undone.

Bids were advertised for to paint the fire department house also the hearse house and cemetery fence. William T. Mc Master furnishing the lowest bid for the best material and guaranteed work was awarded the contracts at the sums reported in financial report.

Concerning the building of a house to store town tools it was thought that the old pound lot was the proper place for such a building. Considerable time was spent in looking up the matter and it was found that when the old pound road was discontinued that the pound lot reverted to the abutters. Objection was made to locate the building there by the abutters. Other lots were looked at but did not seem suitable for the purpose. The matter was allowed to go until it was too late to do it this year and so the matter remains for more fertile brains than the present board.

Concerning shingling the church the board met with the church committee and decided to slate the roof and by so doing make a permanent job and lessen the risk of fire. The lowest possible prices were secured and the work done.

The notes for the public library were signed by the board and a warrantee deed given by Mr. Worcester. Also a deed of the well for which he was reimbursed for. This deed gives the town a right to take water for public use as long as the town exists.

The matter concerning the settees was considered by the board and several persons were asked to take one and see what could be done to refinish them but to our knowledge none are missing for that purpose. As for buying new ones the expense would be so great that the selectmen with their other extra expenditures, such as insurance, slating the church, digging the well at cemetery etc., did not think it advisable to do so. Advice was given by experts that the expense of repainting would be more than the purchase of modern chairs so the matter was left for further consideration by the town.

We have administered as we thought for all the affairs in a business like and economic manner, using such judgment as we were endowed with having at all times the interest of the town at heart and have tried to keep pace with the growing popularity of the town by keeping its public grounds and buildings in good state of preservation and making them as attractive as we could with the small amount of money available for that purpose.

We regret that we have not been able to please every man in town. It is not our fault, we have tried to do what was as we believed for the best interest of every man, but if we have failed it is hoped that you will be wise in your choice in the year to come and elect a board who will do everything just right and thereby accomplish that which this board may have failed to do.

Respectfully,

W. C. BURBEE,
G. F. HILLS,
G. F. HALE,

Selectmen of Hollis.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

In submitting to the citizens of the Town a report of the school work for the year past it is a pleasure when we have evidence that we are progressing and not retrograding, and such evidence we have, as is shown by the fact that the Town received from the State allowance for average attendance the sum of $214.80 in lieu of $137.60 last year. Promptness and regular attendance denote interest and good work, which we believe we have had from an efficient corps of competent teachers. We have brought to a realization the hope of former years and have our High School approved for two years and to do that it was necessary to remodel the course of study and to supply additional instruction, but we believe the end justifies the means. If we could only have the standard so raised as to make our school an approved school for the full term of four years, then there would be no desire on the part of pupils to go away from home for a supplementary course of study in approved High Schools, but all would graduate here and become members of the Alumni of the Hollis High School and the history and fate of any town is well assured that has a large number in the Alumni Association of its High School. The attachments and interests so formed never relax but always grow stronger and in the end bring much good to the Town.

Seven graduated from the High School last June being a little above the average number. The enrollment of the school is slightly on the increase.

Our former Superintendent of Public Instruction, Channing Folsom, realizing the great waste of money appropriated for educational work sought to remedy it, by instituting a system of District Supervisors which has been greatly promoted by our present Superintendent, H. C. Morrison, who has devoted time, skill and energy to the work. We waited patiently for an opportune time to enter a desirable Supervisory district and this year it came and we united with Milford and Amherst and thus fortunately secured the services of Supt. John Bacon. There are many advantages in supervision and the burden, considering the aid we get from the State, is not great.

The School Board report that in their judgment $100 may be needed to pay High School tuition for pupils attending schools out of town in the junior and senior years, and also that $400 may be needed for books and general supplies. The people of the Town, true to their traditions, have not abated their interest in the educational work of the town.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN WORCESTER,
CLARA E. SMITH,
C. E. HARDY,

School Board.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

In compliance with your request I take pleasure in reporting on the condition of our schools. As I have been with you but a few months I can not compare the work done this year with that of the past. I shall simply make a few brief statements in regard to recent changes and suggest two or three improvements.

The most important change has been made in the high school where steps were taken to advance the school to that point where the state department and colleges would recognize it as a high school.

There are at least four good reasons for having a school approved : 1st. The pupils are given a good school. 2nd. Pupils receive credit elsewhere for work completed. 3. Teachers understand they must do creditable work or their carelessness will be known when the school is dropped from the approved list. 4. The town does not have to pay tuition of home pupils attending other high schools. Although the first reason is the most important, the last seems to have the greatest influence.

The first step toward approval is the making of a program of studies. While our old program offered many valuable courses some of them were not intensive, or of sufficient length to be complete. Our new program is given below :

PROGRAM OF STUDIES.

The Latin Course prepares for college, and graduates from that course will be able to enter college without examination or condition except that some colleges require one more year of a modern language. Those who anticipate attending one of these colleges should take another year of a modern language as an extra their senior year or else prepare to enter college with that condition.

The General Course prepares for our State University with Biology as a condition. In the first draft of our program Biology was included but it gave way to Book-keeping as a compromise to those who may not enter college or even complete the high school course. The old program offered English one year only. Now this subject is required of every pupil for four years. This is the most important improvement made. English requires so much attention from the teacher that it was impossible to give a good course with only one teacher. We were thus slighting the most important subject in the program.

Three years of History are now offered, and English History has been dropped from the ninth grade. This subject will be better taught in the high school and those who wish to go to college will be given an opportunity to count this course toward admission whereas in the past this counted them nothing. No credit is given by the colleges for courses taught in the grades.

The Science courses have been one or two term courses. Now Physics and Chemistry will each be given a year.

The following classes will be taught alternate years : Physics and Chemistry ; English History and Ancient History ; Cicero and Virgil ; and some English classes. In this way we can find sufficient time to do good work even with a small teaching force.

The next step toward advancing a school is to improve the equipment. As to this the state department can make definite requirements as to minimum for each course attempted. In Physics and Chemistry at least a certain amount of apparatus can be required. We have a fair equipment for Chemistry but the Physical laboratory is to be equipped before another year. In History a minimum requirement of reference books can be enforced. If these books are in the town library they do not have to be duplicated at school. We are now supplied with reference books for the first two years of History. As to teachers the state requires college graduates or those holding state certificates. Each year the state department examines the reports of work done, as to quantity. At present there is no system of inspection of our work as to quality. There is a bill before the legislature which remedies this defect by providing state inspectors.

I have spoken of state inspection as though we wished to do no more than required of us. This is not the case ; but we do appreciate having a standard set by the state, and the town should appreciate the fact that when a school is approved the school board and teachers have someone who is interested in their work and who will remind them of noticeable carelessness or failures.

Our school has been approved for the first two years of the program, and we are assured that it will be approved for the full four years as soon as our equipment is complete and we have two qualified teachers on full time. When this is done we will consult the colleges in regard to recognizing our school.

No particular changes have been made in the grades. Each teacher is now attempting to follow the State Program of Studies. This gives them a definite plan to follow which will not be radically changed any one year, and allow them to take advantage of suggestions given by the state and to compare their progress with schools in other towns. As this program is made out for eight grades the regular work will soon be found to be completed at the close of the eighth grade. There seems but little doubt but that we can accomplish this after another year and place our schools in line with more than ninety percent of the schools of our country.

In place of English History the ninth grade pupils have been allowed to take Book-keeping with the Freshman class in high school. Thus having two teachers in the high school has given the Grammar School teacher more time for her classes.

As usual, in reports of this kind, I have spoken of changes only, and have not mentioned the most essential part of our schools-the daily work done by the teachers in the school room. I have found each teacher earnestly striving to advance her classes and keep them up to grade. The pupils, too, seem alert and free from the influence of what we sometimes call the "mill population." For this reason I believe we can do the work in eight years commonly done by large towns or cities even though they have many advantages we do not.

I have but two requests to make of the School Board and town. One is that they support the change made in the high school, and the other is they set aside a liberal sum, perhaps twice as large as usual, for the book and supply account. The great need of our schools is equipment. Teachers and pupils are not provided with the books and supplies they need. It is not advisable to spend several thousand dollars a year on our schools and leave the teachers handicapped by lack of books. I know nothing that will improve the Hollis schools more this year than a liberal sum for this account. I am prepared to give a list of books and supplies needed, as soon as called upon to do so.

Respectfully,

JOHN BACON,

Supt. of Schools.
